

SMOKESTREAM™

A complete line of natural smoke flavors for seasonings, sauces, and other food applications!

SmokeStream™ is a versatile range of smoke flavor solutions manufactured from a variety of woods, including mixed hardwoods, oak, beech, maple, hickory, apple, pecan, and mesquite. Developed to deliver the authentic taste, aroma, and character of real wood smoking, SmokeStream™ helps create true-to-type smoked profiles across a wide range of applications. All smoke profiles are available in multiple formats, including powders, oil-soluble systems, and water-soluble solutions, giving flavor and seasoning companies maximum formulation flexibility.

Heat-Stable & Efficient

SmokeStream™ is heat stable and delivers strong smoked flavor even at low dosage, making it a highly efficient solution for a wide range of food applications.

Easy to Formulate

SmokeStream™ integrates easily into seasonings, marinades, sauces, snacks, and processed meat applications, giving formulators flexibility and speed in product development.

A Commercially Smart Choice

For US flavor houses and seasoning manufacturers, Smokestream offers a cost-effective, label-conscious way to create authentic smoked flavor with consistency and strong commercial value.

NATURAL SMOKE FLAVOR - FOR A WIDE RANGE OF APPLICATIONS.

Smokestream™ brings authentic wood-smoked character to sauces, rubs, seasoning blends, snacks, coated nuts and plant-based foods. With flexible formats and consistent delivery, it helps create bold smoked profiles without traditional smoking equipment.

Did you know we also offer smoked ingredients – FIRESTREAM™?

- Naturally smoked ingredients such as salts, sugars, oils, vinegars, spices, garlic, onion and chipotle.
- Different wood types create different profiles, including hickory, beechwood, mesquite and mixed hardwood.
- Can deliver anything from a light background smoke note to a strong, authentic smoke impact. Suitable for BBQ sauces, marinades, snack seasonings, soups, deli meats and plant-based meat alternatives.
