

SUNSTREAM™

A complete line of natural grill flavors for the food industry.

Rich grilled, fatty, and meaty top notes balanced by clean roast and a gentle touch of char. No harsh or burned notes - designed to meet today's demand for clean, modern grill profiles. The result is a true fresh-off-the-grill experience, delivering consistent, authentic grill character across diverse applications. Available in oil-soluble formats and free-flowing powders, SunStream™ is engineered for dry blends, rubs, seasonings, marinades, and meat systems. Designed for clean dispersion, controlled flavor release, and seamless performance across both wet and dry applications. Suitable for a wide range of applications, including burger patties and meatballs, plant-based meats, snack seasonings, coated nuts, crackers, extruded snacks, and baked goods, as well as BBQ sauces, gravies, glazes, and marinades.

ADVANTAGES

Clean grilled and charred flavor notes delivering authentic grill character

High impact at low usage levels (0.05–0.40%) for cost-effective performance

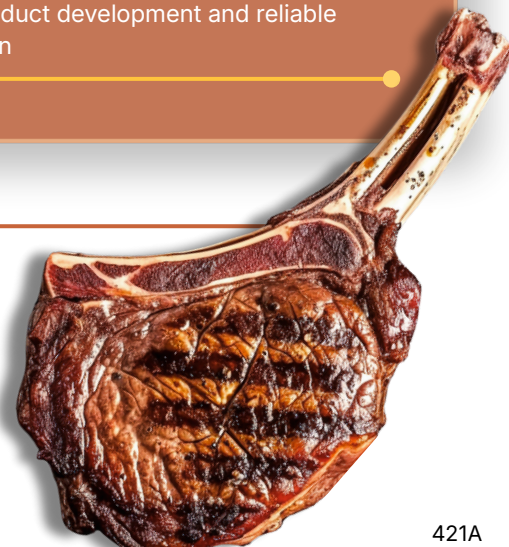

Natural flavor labeling that supports clean-label and modern formulation standards

Heat-stable and processing-ready, suitable for high-volume production and scale-up

Ideal for both new product development and reliable commercial production

TRUE NORTH AMERICAN GRILL CULTURE

From backyard cookouts to smokehouse barbecue, grilled flavor is a defining part of North American food culture. SunStream™ captures that authentic charred, roasted, and flame-grilled character - and brings it into modern food production with clean-label performance and consistent flavor impact.

FORMAT FLEXIBILITY

SunStream™ is available in free-flowing powder and oil-soluble liquid formats, allowing manufacturers to choose the format that best fits their process, dosing method, and final application. Suitable for: Dry blends · Rubs · Seasonings · Snack coatings · Marinades · Sauces · Glazes · Brines

APPLICATIONS

SunStream™ is easy to dose directly into existing production systems, providing consistent flavor impact with minimal process adjustment.

Have a different need?

If you are looking for a specific grill flavor, Flavourstream can work closely with your team and our R&D specialists to match your existing profile or develop a custom solution tailored to your product, process, and label requirements.

|  PRODUCTS |  APPLICATIONS |  SOLUBILITY |  DOSAGE |  FORMAT |  LABELLING |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SunStream™ HO                                                                         | Direct addition                                                                                  | Oil-soluble                                                                                    | 0.05-0.1 %                                                                                 | Liquid                                                                                       | Natural grill flavor                                                                            |
| SunStream™ HO-22                                                                      | Direct addition                                                                                  | Powder-based                                                                                   | 0.2-0.4 %                                                                                  | Powder                                                                                       | Natural grill flavor                                                                            |

FlavourStream™ offers a comprehensive range of products for various applications, and we would be pleased to discuss the complete portfolio with you.

SQF Certified

NON-GMO

Halal Certified

Kosher Certified

In addition, we can provide supporting documentation for FDA compliance, USDA requirements, allergen statements, vegan suitability, and other relevant certifications.

490 Baier Road, Crossville, TN 38571

+1 (833) 892-3838
sales@flavourstream.com
flavourstreamamericas.com